Kennedy Farm Cure Is High Prices, Income

Midwest Dems Hail Strongest Party Promise Ever Made

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Midwest Democrats hailed today a bold pledge of their presidential nominee John F. Kennedy to raise farm prices and incomes and to cure the nation's farm surplus headache.

The Massachusetts Senator made this promise—which he said was the strongest ever given farmers by any party in history—before a cheering farm rally late Sunday attended by farmers and party leaders from the country's agricultural heartland.

Kennedy was backed up by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, his running mate.

Kennedy went all out to impress upon the traditionally Republican farm states that he considered declining farm incomes and what he called Republican disinterest in farmers to be about the biggest domestic issue of the presidential campaign.

He said the GOP has brought near disaster to the nation's farmers.

Kennedy and Johnson brought with them a big array of Democratic leaders to help assure farm voters that the party would not go back on its commitments—an act they charged to the Republican administration.

These included Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Stuart Symington of Missouri, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Henry M. Jackson of Washington. Jackson is Democratic national chairman.

Backing up his party's platform, Kennedy said that he would take positive action beginning next January to raise farm income to full parity and to preserve the family type farm as a way of life.

"I pledge every effort of mind and heart to do it," he said.

Kennedy did not spell out in detail the farm program he would set up, explaining this would be done as the campaign progressed.

Firman Pulls Cafe Holdup In Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 21-year-old Coshocton County jailbreaker, fellow jailbreaker, Bob Johnson, 22, got nearly $200 in the armed holdup of a night club a mile north of here about 3 A.M. today, Deputy Sheriff George Young said.

The Jefferson County deputy said a former high school classmate of Firman was a customer in the Kitty Kat Cafe when the two men robbed the place and identified Firman. A waitress in the place, which Firman used to frequent, also told Young she identified Firman from pictures as one of the holdup men, the deputy said.

The pair took money from the cash register but did not rob the customers, Young said. They used a shotgun and a revolver.

Spunky, 21, and Johnson, 22, have gotten plenty of newspaper space in the past week, climaxing when Firman raided the Coshocton County jail last Wednesday and forced a deputy sheriff to release his buddy. Both he and Johnson were captured Aug. 7 when Firman eluded a posse.

Last week, Firman—or someone identified in each case as that youthful desperado—led law officers all across southern and central Ohio a wild chase in a string of stolen cars and trucks, meanwhile piling up hit-skip accidents, pulling a service station holdup, a couple of gas station burglaries and an alleged kidnapping of several Hamilton youths who were forced to chauffeur him from Hamilton to Circleville.

Firman was in jail for allegedly contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He had a previous record dating back to the time he was 14 years old of burglary and larceny.

Worse Than a Girdle, Girls

Want to see me pull a man out of a hat?

In Burma, the girls wear metal neck rings.

These formal affairs are sheer misery.

Jet pilots aren't exactly the free-soaring, unfettered birds one might think. More like armored knights, especially when it comes to getting out of a pressure suit, North American Aviation test pilot George Burdick illustrates the travails of removing his helmet after a flight. First, like a fish in a bowl, he peers out at a gray-brown world. Next operation calls for a lot of rubber-necking. Finally, helping hands come to the rescue as George hopes to leave most of his nose and ears where they belong.

Exhibitors Ready Entries

Youth Day to Launch County Fair Tuesday

Cloudy skies greeted exhibitors who were putting final touches on their entries today in preparation for the opening Tuesday of the 115th annual Columbiana County fair at Lisbon.

Entries were to close at 5 this afternoon and arrangement of exhibits must be completed by 10 p.m. The fair, scheduled to continue nightly through Saturday, may attract crowds totaling 50,000 barring bad weather.

"Youth Day" will be observed when the formal program gets underway Tuesday. It will begin with weighing of 4-H and Future Farmers of America steers at 9. At 10, there will be a tractor and auto rodeo in front of the grandstand.

Poultry judging in the open class will also be held Tuesday at 11 a.m.

The junior fair program will begin at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow with the 4-H band, presentation of the royal court, float parade, youth talent program and presentation of Dr. Robert Dunlap health essay awards by Columbiana County Health Board President Howard Cole. Other youth activities are scheduled during the afternoon.

At 7 p.m., there will be a parade of lives'ock, machinery and junior fair entries, with the first showing of 4-H Showboat, presented by the members of different clubs in the county.

Some 40 choice steers will be displayed and sold at the 4-H and Future Farmers of America club events at the fair, according to Joe Burger, count extension agent in 4-H work.

OAS to Enter Critical Phase On Cuba Today

Castro to Reject Any Charge of Communist Activity

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The Western Hemisphere foreign ministers' meeting entered a new, critical phase today in which Cuba may be pointed out as a Trojan horse for communism in the Americas.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has already served notice Cuba will reject any such charge and will bitterly attack the United States. A Cuban walkout from the conference being held by the Organization of American States (OAS) is possible.

The foreign ministers turned to discussing Communist infiltration of Latin America after signing a resolution condemning the dictatorship of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo in the Dominican Republic. The United States joined with other members of the OAS Sunday in approving diplomatic and economic restrictions against the Trujillo regime until it makes democratic reforms.

The Dominican delegation walked out of the conference Saturday in protest against the resolution, which it termed "illegal and coercive."

The hemispheric foreign ministers are expected to proceed more cautiously in attacking Communist penetration and particularly the growing friendship between Cuba and the Soviet Union. Castro has many Latin-American followers; Dominican strongman Trujillo has few.

But diplomatic observers are predicting a strongly worded resolution condemning Soviet attempts to intervene in the hemisphere's affairs. Cuba could be indicted—either directly or indirectly—as a nation which has direct links with Soviet communism.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa already has anticipated such a charge. He told the ministers last week that the Castro government is following its own independent line and is not a satellite of anybody.

A graver charge against Cuba—at least in Latin-American eyes—may be that it has become a dictatorship where human rights which the revolution pledged to protect are being violated.

Powers' Wife To Appeal to Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—Barbara Powers decided today to appeal directly to Premier Nikita Khrushchev for clemency for her husband, convicted U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

"She has decided it would take too long to await the outcome of her appeal to President Leonid Brezhnev," said attorney Frank W. Rogers of Roanoke, Va.

Mrs. Powers, 25, brunette wife of the 31-year-old American flier sentenced to 10 years' detention for espionage against the Soviet Union earlier had told reporters she would await the outcome of this formal appeal before trying to see Khrushchev.

The Soviet Premier is vacationing in Yalta on the Black Sea, and just how she intended to go about seeing him was in doubt. It is known that the pilot's father also intends to press ahead with efforts to see Khrushchev, but his attempt did not appear to be coordinated with that of his daughter-in-law. They also were reported to have disagreed on the wording of an appeal.

There was no indication of the points in dispute, but lawyers who accompanied the family to Moscow for Powers' espionage trial last week said the flier's wife and her parents had not been able to agree on the wording of the mercy petition they had planned to submit to Brezhnev today.

The lawyers said there was a possibility two petitions would be submitted—one from Barbara, and one from the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va.

The American pilot was sentenced Friday to three years in prison and seven more of "deprivation of liberty" presumably in a labor camp. Powers has said he does not think he has much chance for clemency.

Mikhail Grinov, Powers' Soviet defense lawyer, told the pilot's family it usually takes about a month for a clemency plea to be acted on but that it might be faster in this case because the family is in Moscow awaiting the outcome.

Space Dogs' Initial Reaction Worried Soviets

Russian Scientists Describe Flight, Landing of Ship

MOSCOW (AP)—Two mongrel dogs in their space flight reacted alarmingly after the rocket blast-off last Friday, raising fears something had gone wrong, the Communist newspaper Pravda reported today.

But 10-pound Belka (squirrel) and 12-pound Strelka (arrow), shown to newspapermen in Moscow for the first time, rallied and soon were eating as their space ship sped on its orbit, the party newspaper said.

Made Undamaged Landing

The newspaper also reported the capsule containing the two dogs, other animals, flies, plants and fungi made a smooth, undamaged landing in a meadow after being discharged from the mother space ship. The capsule came down Saturday after 18 revolutions around the earth in 24 hours, Pravda said.

The 4½-ton space ship, after discharging its living cargo at a low altitude, also made history by landing safely itself, Pravda said. It gave no details.

Scientists watching the reaction of the dogs by television placed aboard the space ship said the dogs' heads and paws hung limp and unmoving after emerging from the terrific pull of the take-off, Pravda said.

"We were alarmed at that moment," one scientist told Pravda. "Only the data of the telemetric system quieted us. The dogs' pulse and breathing were continuing."

Pravda said one scientist gave this account of the landing of the capsule:

The container with the dogs landed on a smooth meadow surrounded by arable fields. On landing four farmers were not far away. They surrounded the unusual guest from the cosmos and examined it.

One Soviet scientist, Prof. D. V. Marinyov, said that the satellite used in the test "could carry both a man and large variety of scientific instruments." Other scientists hailed the recovery of the ship as another big step toward sending a man into space.

Covered 434,700 Miles

The journey covered 700,000 kilometers—434,700 miles—in an orbit 198.3 miles above the earth. The Soviets said the landings were made within seven miles of the target spot.

Strelka and Belka leaped from their cabin after its hatch was opened and "barked joyously and

Youth Faces Hearing In Juvenile Court

A 16-year-old Minerva area youth was scheduled to appear before Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin at 1 p.m. today in connection with the theft of a truck Thursday.

The youth, Vernon Etters, 16, of RD 1, Minerva, reportedly was driver of the truck which was involved in a collision on Rt. 224, near Mill Creek Park, at 9:45 a.m. Friday. The truck was reported missing by James T. Vincent, RD 3, Lisbon, Thursday night.

In the truck with Etters at the time of the accident were two Salem area youths, Jerry Esterly, 13, of RD 3, Steward Rd., and Arthur Oriole, 14, of 991 E. 6th St. The Esterly boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Esterly, is in good condition this morning in South Side Hospital, Youngstown, with a broken leg, bruising and cuts and abrasions of his chest, back and side. The other two boys, Etters and Oriole, were treated at the hospital for minor injuries.

State Highway Patrolmen at Lisbon said Etters was driving the truck when it went left of center and crashed into a tractor-trailer rig, operated by Kenneth Durbin, 29, of Decatur, Ind. Durbin was not injured.

House Blocks Way For Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Rules Committee deadlock on a school aid bill may be broken this week, clearing the way for action later on medical aid and minimum wage legislation.

If the stalemate continues, Democratic congressional leaders are toying with the idea of adjourning the post-convention session of Congress and blaming Republicans for the lack of results. Republicans and Southern Democrats on the Rules Committee have combined to block school aid and some other bills.

On the other hand Republicans say that the Democrats, with their heavy majorities in both houses, are responsible for what is or is not done.

Separate school bills have passed the Senate and the House but can't get to a compromise committee without Rules Committee approval. The committee has refused clearance by a 7-5 vote, with four Republicans and three Southern Democrats providing the opposition and five Democrats favoring the bill.

Two of the seven who opposed clearance are Reps. James W. Trimble (D-Ark.) and B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.). Among other things, they are opposed to an anti-segregation provision written into the House bill but not included in the Senate version.

The provision would bar federal aid to schools that practice racial segregation. It was sponsored by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.).

Firm assurance that that provision would be removed might clear the way for Trimble and

Council to Meet On Income Tax

City Council is scheduled to meet in special session Tuesday night to pass the one half of one percent income tax ordinance which received its first reading last Tuesday.

The measure will impose an income tax equal to 50 cents on every $100 earned in the city of Salem for 15 months starting Oct. 1. A comparable ordinance was given two readings late last year but was dropped after considerable opposition arose to it and after a special committee, established to determine its need, recommended that it not be passed.

The latest proposed ordinance was deemed necessary by Council and some city officials after it was learned that the present spending rate will result in deficit financing in the general fund by the end of the year.

The proposed ordinance will allocate 60 per cent of the proceeds of the tax to the general fund and 40 per cent to capital improvements.

Leaders Uphold Direction In 12-Hour Debate

Lumumba's Blasts, Soviets' Criticism Strongly Rejected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council Sunday night overwhelmingly endorsed Dag Hammarskjöld's direction of U.N. military and civilian aid in the Congo.

There was no formal vote in the council after more than 12 hours of debate, but speaker after speaker from all regions of the world upheld the U.N. secretary-general's policy of neutrality toward the Congo's domestic disputes.

The council majority rejected the blasts of Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba and the harsh criticism by the Soviet Union that poured out over Moscow radio and was repeated here by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov.

Hammarskjöld flew back to New York Aug. 16 seeking council support of his refusal to use the U.N. force of nearly 15,000 men to put Lumumba in control of mineral-rich Katanga province, whose Premier Moise Tshombe declared his independence of Lumumba's government. Hammarskjöld said that if Lumumba's view was upheld, the U.N. operation would have to be ended in the Congo.

Lumumba cried blackmail and demanded that the U.N. force be put under his government's control and that Hammarskjöld be supplanted by a commission from 14 African and Asian nations. Lumumba's emissary, Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga, repeated the demands in the council debate.

Kuznetsov proposed a resolution to create an Asian-African committee as a sort of overlord of the U.N. force. But as the council session neared its end after midnight, the gaunt, graying Soviet official confessed he could not get the seven votes necessary in the 11-nation council to approve the resolution. He withdrew the resolution and the marathon session—second in two weeks on the Congo situation—ended without a vote. It marked still another setback for the Soviet Union, which during the debate (1) demanded with-

5 Missionaries to India to Attend Friends Meeting at Damascus

Five missionaries from the American Friends Mission in Central India, with a total service record of 32½ years, will attend the 147th annual meeting of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends at Damascus, which opens Tuesday at 9:30 a.m., with a devotional and business session. Sessions will continue through Sunday evening.

The missionaries are: The Rev. and Mrs. Milton E. Coleman of Chhatrapur, who arrived in Damascus last week; Miss Anna Nixon of Jhansi, who returned to the United States last spring, and the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hess, who are completing a two-year furlough and will return to India early in October.

THE REV. COLEMAN and his wife, Rebecca Heller Coleman, have served 14 years in general mission work. He is a former Cleveland resident, while Mrs. Coleman is a native of Avis, near Williamsport, Pa.

Their romance began at Cleveland Bible Institute, now Malone College, Canton, of which both are graduates. Mrs. Coleman is a talented musician. The Colemans served as pastors of Friends churches at Adrian, Mich., and Columbus, before sailing for India Oct. 13, 1945, from Norfolk, Va. They have one daughter, Carol, 12.

The Rev. Coleman is scheduled to speak at the annual missionary service of the YM Sunday, at 2:30 p.m., also for the Men in Missions meeting Tuesday at 3:40 p.m., and he will be the speaker for the Youth Devotional service Thursday at 8 a.m. Mrs. Coleman and Miss Nixon will be speakers for the annual Women's Missionary rally Tuesday at 3:40 p.m.

MISS NIXON, a native of Delta, Colorado, has completed two six-year terms in India. A graduate of Cleveland Bible College, her missionary career has been very eventful.

She set sail for India at the opening of World War II. The attack on Pearl Harbor occurred just as her ship was approaching Manila. She was captured by the Japanese and held for three and one-half years. After her release she returned to the United States to regain her health in preparation for another trip to India.

During her past term, Miss Nixon has been active in literature work. She has been writing and circulating literature materials for the Evangelical Churches in all

ROBERT HESS and his wife, Esther, have been residing in Philadelphia the past year, where he held a pastorate and continued his studies at the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania, working on his doctor's degree. Upon his return to India he plans to teach in the Union Bible Seminary at Yeotmal. This is a graduate school for ministers and evangelists of seminary standing which gives the BD degree in India.

The Rev. Hess is a native of Hughesville, Pa., and is married to the former Esther Garner of Columbus. After finishing High School, Rev. Hess enlisted in the Air Force and served as a pilot during World War II. Following his release he entered Asbury College, at Wilmore, Ky., and was graduated in 1949. He then completed work for his master's degree at Ohio State University.

During his term in India, he was in demand as a conference speaker and evangelist over greater India. Two summers he was asked to serve as pastor of Kellogg Memorial Church at Landour. This is a union church in the hills which is attended by missionaries of many denominations. The couple has two children, Ronnie and Kathy.

Dr. Royal S. Woodhead of Syracuse, a Wesleyan Methodist minister, guest speaker, will preach at the YM gospel service each evening at 7:30. The Rev. Earl Smith of Cleveland, and the Rev. Howard Jacob of Williamsport, Penna., will direct the music.

Note Planets While Searching for Echo

In addition to the Echo satellite, which has captured a large viewing audience in the Salem area during the last week, there are several conspicuous natural objects in the night sky.

In the south at the time of the satellite's first visible passage to night, 9:28 p.m., are two planets, Jupiter and Saturn.

Jupiter, the brightest, is in the south-southwest each evening at this time. It is the largest of the nine planets, 87,000 miles in diameter, and is completely covered with thick bands of clouds.

A good pair of binoculars or a small telescope will bring into view four of the planet's nine moons. They appear as small points of light on either side of the tiny disk.

The second planet, Saturn, may be seen a little east of south, about as high above the horizon as Jupiter. A good telescope will reveal Saturn's rings, which girdle the planet at the equator.

Nearly overhead at this time is the brilliant blue-white star Vega, which is perhaps just a shade brighter than the satellite. It is 2,500,000 miles in diameter, and its light takes 23 years to travel to the earth.

The next two brightest stars in the overhead sky are Deneb and Altair, which are east and south-east respectively from Vega, and which with it form what is sometimes called the Northern Triangle.

Picnic Patio Decks Provide Next-to-Nature Dining Areas

Food always tastes better when served outdoors, but not every family can get away to the beach or mountains for a picnic.

The solution is to provide a picnic spot in your own back yard. More American families are discovering they can have a picnic every evening and week-end through the long summer months.

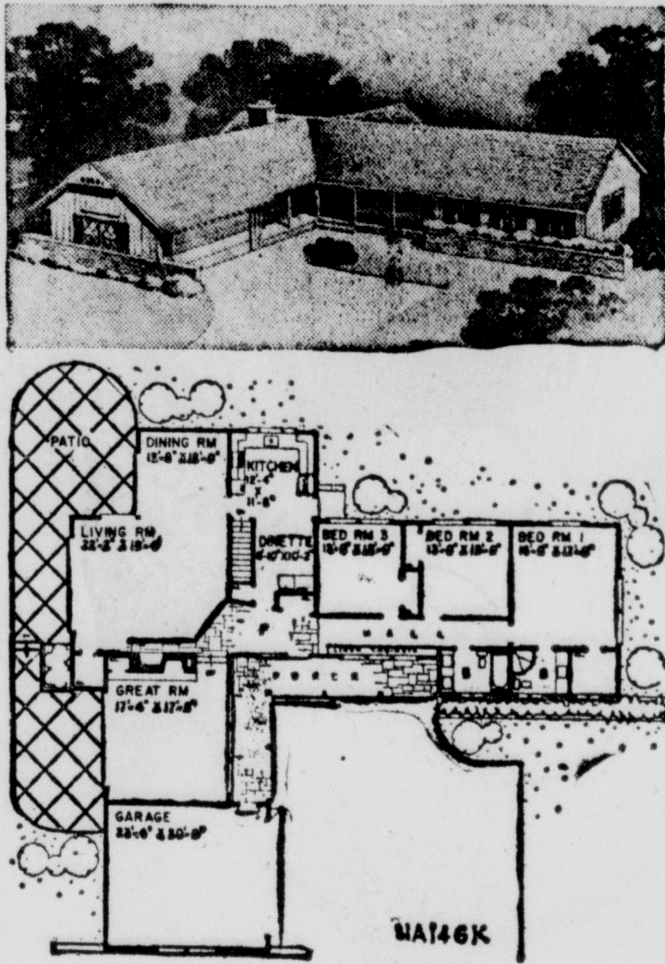

The answer is to build a handy wood patio deck right outside the kitchen door. This kind of outdoor picnic area combines the convenience of a close-to-the-kitchen spot with a next-to-nature feeling.

If your back yard is sheltered with fences or hedges, your picnic patio deck can be a simple but lovely installation. Be sure you have sturdy foundation framing of heavy Douglas fir construction lumber. Generally, 2x10s or doubled up 2x8s provide adequate framing support. Be sure that 4x4 wood posts rest on concrete blocks free of the ground.

The patio deck can be built of 2x4s or 2x6s in fir. Some decks are laid with the narrow edge of the 2x4 facing up, but, in any case, be sure there is a slight spacing between the boards of the deck to allow for easy runoff of water. This also makes it simple to use the garden hose to clean the deck of leaves.

If your back yard has no shelter, you will want to install some sort of screening walls on one or more sides of the patio.

An attractive screen can be made of louvered boards set so that cooling summer breezes can blow across the patio deck. You can use 1x12 fir or western red cedar boards for the louvers. They can be nailed to top and bottom 2x6

FOR THE COUNTRY—Designed in farmhouse styling, this ranch combines livability and charm in seven well-designed rooms covering 2,190 square feet. The three bedrooms and bath are off to themselves, and the living and dining rooms have outdoor porch and patios. A feature is a 17x17 family room, perfect for informal entertaining. The plan, HA146K, is by Architect Derick B. Kipp, Room 75, 117 W. 48th St., New York 36, N.Y.

caps to give rigidity and strength. You can stain these screens or let them weather.

You can design these patio decks so they are rectangular, or you can make them into all sorts of attractive shapes such as diamond, crescent, circular. You can also build permanent benches around the perimeter of the deck to provide lounging seats for extra seating space.

There is no limit to the many variations you can build into these picnic patio decks. Just let your imagination have full sway.

Questions And Answers

QUESTION: Our house has wooden shingles on the roof and we figure it is about time we had a re-roofing job done. We are thinking about using asphalt shingles. Can you tell us something about them?

ANSWER: They are the most widely-used residential roofing material. They also are the least costly, with the exception of asphalt roll roofing, which is not used too much on homes because it lacks the eye appeal of shingles. Asphalt shingles can be applied on roofs with as little as two inches of pitch and have a life expectancy of 20 years. They are available in a wide range of colors and are fire resistant. They are not wind-resistant, although wind-resistant applications can be obtained by advising the contractor. In most cases, this extra advantage costs a little more, since the tabs must be cemented. Unless the wooden shingles on your house are in extremely poor condition, they do not have to be removed. The asphalt shingles can be applied directly over them.

QUESTION: Our living room ceiling, which is very high, has darkish gold color on it. I want to paint it white, but a neighbor says that will only make the ceiling appear higher. Is she right?

ANSWER: She is. A dark tone tends to "pull down" a high ceiling. A light shade "raises" a low ceiling.

QUESTION: I am getting ready to set up a basement workshop. I am fairly familiar with hand tools, but do not know too much about power tools. I hope to be able to buy two or three electric tools at the start and more later. Can you tell me which ones are best to buy first?

ANSWER: There are no "best" power tools for every individual, because your choice must be guided by the use you intend to make of them. If you plan to do a lot of straightline cutting, especially with heavy wood, then you will need a table or circular saw. For light sawing, especially involving irregular patterns, the jigsaw is excellent. The band saw, on the other hand, can be used for both curved and straight work, handling much heavier projects than the jigsaw but not as heavy as those of the table saw. We are, of course, discussing machines of comparative size and quality. The drill press, jointer and lathe are other popular power tools in the stationary category. Each performs several functions but usually does one thing best. You should shop around, ask questions and read the booklets that are available before deciding on the power tools that will fit your needs as well as your budget. Two other points: remember there are some good combination machines on the market — and, in the small, portable tool area, the biggest selling and most versatile is the electric drill.

Democrats' Strategy Flops

If Republicans in Congress had planned it themselves, the Democratic majorities in the Senate and House couldn't have been put in a worse light than they have stood in during the tag-end session.

This was the Democrats' idea. They had piddled through a six-month ordeal of political procrastination so they could get Congress back to Washington after the July conventions and put on a show.

Their plan was to spend August electrifying the country with a slam-bang legislative program under the guidance of Sam Rayburn in the House and Lyndon Johnson in the Senate. What happened?

Lyndon Johnson never has been heard of since, although he did end up in second place on the Democratic ticket. Speaker Rayburn can't even get the House of Representatives to keep a quorum so it can hold its first session.

In the Senate, the head of the ticket, Sen. Kennedy, has been suffering from sinusitis and laryngitis. He hasn't been able to speak above a whisper, although it hasn't made any difference because what a senator says in the Senate, even if it's shouted, is only a whisper outside Washington.

THE STRATEGY of starting the 1960 campaign in Congress where the Democratic party was in two-thirds control has laid an egg. As was predicted before the conventions, Democrats came back to Washington with blood in their shoes from the wounds inflicted on one another in the civil rights fight. Not only were they bleeding from that but also from the fight between their Reuther wing and their Byrd wing. All of them had been deeply impressed with the powerhouse tactics of the Kennedy organization, but some of them had been impressed until it left permanent scars on their pride.

Worst of all, it seems not to have occurred to the Democrats that Republicans would be coming back to Washington, too, and that they would do precisely what they have done. They would make it plain that the Democrats, despite their lopsided legislative majority, lacked the ability to pass legislation, because they couldn't agree on anything of importance.

When President Eisenhower beat them to the punch by challenging them to act on nearly two-score of measures he had proposed early this year — and which they proposed at Los Angeles as if they never had heard of them before — they said he wasn't playing fair.

When Republicans gave them a chance to do something about civil rights, they said it was foul play.

MEANWHILE, Vice President Nixon was off and running while his rival was stuck in the Senate, trying to raise his voice above a whisper. And Sen. Johnson was buried alive while Ambassador Lodge was being heard of day in and day out as chief U.S. spokesman in the United Nations.

In the United States, the evolution of political tactics and political forms never stops. The nature of government changes by the month and year as Americans learn what works and what doesn't work.

One thing sure about tag-end sessions after political conventions. The first one will be the last. It was the flop of all flops as a campaign stunt, and the people who planned it owe their fellow Democrats an apology.

Falling From Salem to Alliance

Space achievements are becoming so commonplace that new records in the field are failing to garner more than a perfunctory report. But the latest achievement forces a double take perhaps because it involved a human being unassisted by rockets or jets.

Air Force Capt. John Kittinger parachuted from a balloon at an altitude of 103,000 feet, or roughly 19½ miles, and after a quick physical examination talked to newsmen as if it had been an everyday feat.

One of the amazing aspects of his performance is the fact he fell 16 miles, or from Salem to Alliance, before his main parachute opened.

The total trip required slightly over 1½ minutes and his speed during the free fall was estimated at 445 miles per hour.

A few years ago, it was unthinkable to fly a plane at this altitude let alone make a parachute jump from the edge of space.

The record during World II for a parachute jump was 55,000 feet set by two British fliers from a disabled bomber.

As a veteran newsmen said when handling the fantastic story of Charles Lindbergh's Atlantic solo, "They've passed the realm of imagination."

Preventive Medicine

"Immunization prevents disease and protects lives," the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council stressed in one of its recent news releases.

Most people have a proper respect for the enemies of good health and avail themselves of the preventives that are fortunately available, yet there are still others who continually ignore oft-repeated warnings to get their polio shots, for example.

The polio season is on. One death from the disease was recorded last week in Ohio and less-fortunate Rhode Island is combatting an outbreak of the crippling disease. Why take the risk when the Salk vaccine is readily available here?

Children entering school for the first time next month must show proof of immunization against all the various diseases.

An Aide Moves Up

John Dawson, who is leaving Sept. 11 to become recreational director at Madison Heights, Mich., has helped to keep Salem's fine recreation program functioning smoothly during the past two years that he has been the assistant.

The advancement is well-earned although we are sorry that he will be missing from the local scene.

Once Over

Washington announces a complete set-up to list dangerous drivers in all states. It's a great idea but is there a building in the capital big enough to hold all the names and addresses?

Law signed by President this summer is intended to coordinate activities in a campaign to get potential killers off roads. Federal government and states, facing job, may exclaim "It's bigger than both of us."

Getting all the state records and keeping up to date, check on baddies can be trick of the year, allowing for snafu in government proceedings on town, city, state and national levels. By the time Washington gets a complete list of potential highway killers they may be too old to drive.

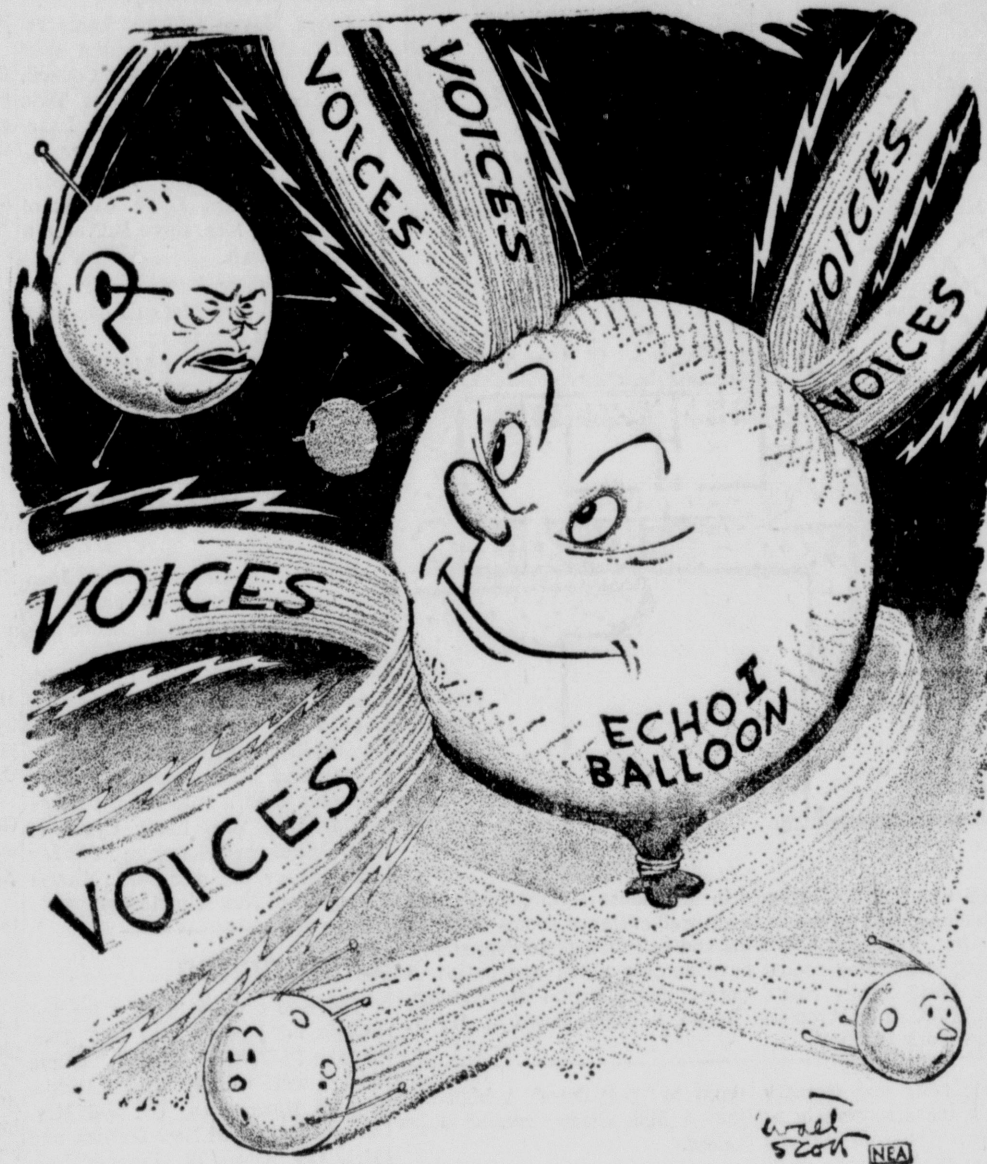

Federal Highway Rogues Gallery and Card Index is great idea if it ever functions. It will help safe driving campaign if drivers know Washington "has a little list of folks who never will be missed," and that Uncle Sam is breathing down their necks and reciting in typical Gilbert & Sullivan style:

There's the extra snooty autoist who lords it over all—
The bumptious operator with an ego 10 feet tall—
The VIP unhappy if he lacks enormous gall—
I've got 'em on a list; they never will be missed.

There's the gentle looking mother who's a demon at the wheel—
Who cuts all corners sharply and through yellow lights will steal
And the guy who boasts high character but functions as a heel—
They never will be missed; they never will be missed.

There's the fellow who thinks "stop" signs are erected just for fun—
The man who thinks an auto is his outer space big gun—
And drivers who another "little snifer" fork.

crossed paths with characters reputed to be Europe's toughest. From among them, I was told, the Communist party's Executive Committee met in the Pyrenees Area not too far from here.

The underground Spanish Communist operatives then got up a statement of which virtually no one is aware in the United States. It is a statement, though, which outlines international Communist tactics under the Soviet Praesidium's new line.

It called for a popular front of all forces against the Spanish government. This the Soviets are doing in France, in Italy, in Latin America, in Asia.

For those who did not experience the Communist successes of the '30s through popular front tactics, let me explain it.

The Communists appear suddenly to become as peaceful as choir singers. They announce they really want nothing but to support all others in the drive for the common good.

They then get up joint election or action committees. At first they are the junior partner. Then their undercover cadres take power.

THEIR TACTIC is first to create tension and a feeling of omnipresent strength underground. Not too many weeks ago an underground unit slipped into Spain despite the numerous agents of the Spanish Director General of Security.

On June 26, bombs went off in the Barcelona, Madrid and San Sebastian railroad stations and on some trains.

Five days later, the outlawed Communist party's Executive Committee met in the Pyrenees Area not too far from here.

The underground Spanish Communist operatives then got up a statement of which virtually no one is aware in the United States. It is a statement, though, which outlines international Communist tactics under the Soviet Praesidium's new line.

It called for a popular front of all forces against the Spanish government. This the Soviets are doing in France, in Italy, in Latin America, in Asia.

For those who did not experience the Communist successes of the '30s through popular front tactics, let me explain it.

The Communists appear suddenly to become as peaceful as choir singers. They announce they really want nothing but to support all others in the drive for the common good.

They then get up joint election or action committees. At first they are the junior partner. Then their undercover cadres take power.

Now, back to the Spanish Communist party's executive committee.

On July 2, it got its clandestine and mobile transmitter into place. At 4:30 p.m. it broadcast the full statement.

FIRST the Communists talked of the "success" of street action in Tokyo, Turkey and Korea. The underground radio broadcast: "An example has been set by other people who are similarly situated. In South Korea the popular demonstrations brought about the downfall of (Rhee) in a few days. . . .

"In Turkey the ruling group was swept from power in a matter of days. . . .

"In Japan people, by a general strike and mass demonstrations, forced the Kishi government to call off Eisenhower's visit. . . .

"They give proof that it is possible to end a . . . regime by means of mass effort.

"The experience of these countries is confirmation that national strike action, accompanied by popular mass demonstrations, representative of all sections and forces . . . is the appropriate way . . . in Spain."

The Spanish government will not quit, the broadcast warned, "as long as the people do not come out into the streets to impose their will."

The Spanish Communists then issued a seven-point program saying: "We Communists would support a provisional government which has a foreign policy favoring peaceful co-existence with the Soviets."

Further, it said: "We Communists have proposed the holding of a round table conference, a sort of opposition Parliament, at which the various forces could present their viewpoints."

The Communists appealed to the Catholics, the workers, the army, the police, the chambers of commerce, the university students.

If a center democratic force doesn't checkmate the Communist apparatus and it does pull its Tokyo tactics in Spain and they do take power, the Soviets will have the mother country of all Latin America — and not just a Caribbean beachhead in Cuba.

Which Minority Party?

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Democratic Strength May Be Deceptive

SPOKANE, Wash.
We are already getting, in dispatches and commentaries from Washington, D.C., and New York, two assertions which need contradiction or qualification before readers and hearers accept them as facts.

One is that the Republican party is a minority and the other is that a Republican candidate must direct his appeal primarily toward "Democrats and Independents" in order to win.

These are, at the best, those dangerous half-truths which can lose rather than win the election for a Republican candidate. And they have in the past 20 years lost three elections — one for Wilkie, and two for Dewey.

It was recently asserted in a number of dispatches that the Republican national headquarters in Washington had issued a statement that Democrats outnumber Republicans 3-2.

To make that statement is good campaign strategy. Technically it is true, especially when it is based upon the disastrous year 1958. It is intended to spur local organizations to greater efforts.

BUT THE WISE MAN who was from 1952 to 1959 campaign director of the Republican National Committee, Robert Humphreys, pointed out the danger of accepting this sort of estimate without adding certain facts.

He said that it is true that generally the total vote for Democratic candidates for the House of Representatives is higher than that cast for Republican candidate. But there are from 70 to 80 districts, mostly in the South, in which there is no Republican opposition. Also, where there is opposition, it is only nominal.

Humphreys proved that if these districts were eliminated, the Republican vote would be considerably higher than the Democratic vote. There are also gerrymandered districts everywhere in the states outside the South in which opposition is only nominal. Some of these are Republican; others, Democratic.

Moreover, in the past five presidential elections, there are strong citizens' organizations working only for the presidential candidate on the Republican ticket, "Citizens for Wilkie" was an example.

That sort of appeal is a direct invitation to split the ticket. Because of it, candidates for Congress and the state legislatures are forgotten and their vote slumps below that of the head of the ticket.

Nixon well knows that danger, and such groups will be more tightly bound to the Republican organization this year.

The soundest political strategy is to work hard to get out votes for the little fellows on the ticket first. Then every extra vote gotten out will go to the head of the ticket, too.

IT MUST BE NOTED that there is nothing but the name Democrat to relate most of the congressmen from uncontested districts in the South to the majority that wrote the platform and selected the candidate at Los Angeles.

Nixon's appeal to those conservative voters will be very strong indeed, and the result will be apparent in the election.

Another circumstance which gives the Democratic party a technical majority is in the registration figures. These are meaningless in terms of real preferences.

This is especially true of the three states I have visited during the past three weeks—California, Oregon, and Washington.

Party ties are very loose out here. People register according to their past traditions or by habit. But in the elections in all three states, Republican governors have been generally elected over the past 20 years.

The important fact which needs clarification by the candidates this year is that the Democratic party has been transformed since Roosevelt was first elected 28 years ago. It stands for the exact opposite from what it advocated before that.

The whole voting population is now in a state of flux, seeking new moorings and new Party affiliations.

If, as is probable, Nixon proves wiser than Dewey, and Wilkie, he will seek to align with his party the millions who cannot subscribe to the radical sentiments dominant at Los Angeles.

With that sort of appeal, with his firm belief in building up the strength of his party at the local level, we may see a real realignment of the two parties, with either fairly equal strength or a Republican majority. But to assume that all Democrats are radical and to make a radical appeal would lose conservatives, under both party names.

Matter of Fact

The young Roman Caius Gracchus was a fine public speaker until he got excited. Then he'd lose control of his voice and temper, spoiling his whole speech. So he hired a servant to stand behind him with a pitch pipe. Whenever Caius' voice broke with anger or got too loud, the servant would strike a soft note on his pipe. This finally taught Caius to simmer down and he became famous for his eloquence.

A vital comparison: The Soviet Union employs 50 per cent of its people on farms and still grows less than it wants. But the United States needs less than 10 per cent of its population to produce more crops than the nation can consume.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Two Well-Known Conditions Don't Exist

"Athlete's Heart" and "Nervous Breakdown" are a pair of medical conditions you hear a great deal about despite the fact that neither really exists.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

In technical terms, "Athlete's Heart" has never been defined. I imagine there is a general belief that the athlete's heart becomes enlarged (hypertrophied), just as his arm and leg muscles do, as a result of the strenuous efforts of his physical education.

Many careful studies, such as those conducted on men who formerly rowed on Harvard crews, show conclusively that the graduate athlete is no more apt to develop heart disease in general, or hypertrophy in particular, than classmates who engaged in no more exercise than was necessary to pass courses in physical education.

WHAT HAPPENS, of course, is that each time a former athlete develops a heart condition, his ailment is attributed to earlier participation in sports.

After hearing of a few of these fatalities from what is glibly called "Athlete's Heart," who can blame the conscientious parent from raising objections to a son's activities on the gridiron, ball field or wrestling mat?

THE SECOND nonexistent condition to which I want to direct your attention is the "Nervous Breakdown."

Although this condition also has not been technically defined, it is usually pinned on the person who "goes to pieces" following some unusual strain such as a final examination, a family misfortune or a business failure.

It is the usual experience that when the subject of a "Nervous Breakdown" is thoroughly investigated, he or she will be found to have had a pre-existent disturbance that became intensified as a result of whatever strain happened to arise. Stated otherwise, the so-called "cause" of the breakdown was in actuality merely the straw that broke the camel's back.

There are at least two reasons why the truth about a "Nervous Breakdown" are of importance to many parents.

IN THE FIRST place, there is no need for any mother or father to fear that an unusually ambitious child may "go to pieces" as a result of overstudy.

Secondly, if a hypersensitive child or adult does suffer a so-called breakdown following some unusual strain, members of the family need not rebuke themselves for failure to step in and prevent or halt the strain, whatever its exact nature. Quite certainly, if that particular straw hadn't broken the camel's back, the very next one would have.

Mrs. Ronald Edgar Zoz

Marie Anne Hobe Is Bride Here of Roland Edgar Zoz

The marriage of Miss Marie Anne Hobe of Damascus and Roland Edgar Zoz of Bellefontaine took place Sunday in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. The Rev. Richard Freseman officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m.

The bride is a daughter of Ernest R. Hobe and the late Alma Hobe. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. C. Edgar Zoz and the late Mr. Zoz.

Twin vases of white gladioli and white carnations enhanced the altar, which was banked with palms and ivy. Tapers in seven-branch candelabra lighted the chancel.

Attractively-Gowned

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her full length gown of lace and silk organza was styled with a Sabrina neckline, long pointed sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt trimmed with applied lace points accented by bows. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was fashioned with an applied lace cap attached to a pearl studded tiara. Her cascade bouquet contained white gladioli florets and white carnations.

Mrs. Ronald Shaffer of Diehl Lake was matron of honor. Miss Phyllis Pephens of Kenton and Miss Shirley Heiby of Bucyrus, sorority sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore ballerina gowns of silk organza fashioned with scoop necklines, short sleeves and full skirts.

The pleted bands on the bodices ended in butterfly bows in the back. Their white hats were trimmed with flowers and short veils.

Mrs. Shaffer carried a basket of white gladioli and light pink carnations decorated with aqua ribbon to match her aqua dress. Ribbon to match her Nile green dress, trimmed the flower basket holding white gladioli and dark pink carnations carried by Miss Pephens. Miss Heiby was dressed in turquoise. Matching ribbon decorated her flower basket containing white gladioli and dark pink carnations.

Benjamin Newmann II of Bellefontaine was best man. Harold Hobe of Damascus, a brother of the bride, and Burton Luring of Bellefontaine ushered.

Mrs. Zoz complemented her navy blue dress with beige accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held in the church social rooms. Misses Diane and Carolyn Fleischer of Salem, cousins of the bride, assisted with the gifts.

Norine Vymazal, Paul Young Speak Vows At East Goshen

The East Goshen Friends Church in Beloit was the setting for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss Norine Edythe Vymazal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vymazal of Berlin Center and Paul N. Young, son of Mrs. Lena Young of Berlin Center and the late Frank Young.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. John Powell of the Celina Friends Church.

Ferns and palms and arrangements of chrysanthemums, carnations and gladioli decorated the altar, before which Mr. Vymazal gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. John Powell sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning."

The bride made her gown and those worn by her attendants. It was fashioned of white taffeta with a lace overskirt. The bodice was styled with a scalloped bateau neckline and the long sleeves featured lace appliques at the wrists.

Her fingertip veil fell from a pearl crown. Albo lilies, surrounded by white mums, formed her bridal bouquet.

Identically styled street-length gowns of taffeta were worn by the bride's attendants. They were created with basque bodices and fullness at the sides of the skirts, ending back bows.

The maid of honor, Miss Suzanne Vymazal, sister of the bride, was attired in a rose frock while the bridesmaids, Mrs. Ralph McGuire and Miss Sandra Hetrick, niece of the bride groom, wore American Beauty gowns. They wore matching picture hats and carried colonial bouquets of pink roses.

The flower girl was Daria Jean Kolechta, cousin of the bride. She wore a coral taffeta dress with a lace pinafore, and carried a basket of shrimp-colored carnations.

Glen Talbott, nephew of the bride groom, was the ringbearer. Thomas Downs was best man for Mr. Young. The ushers were Kenneth Talbott, nephew of the bridegroom and Frank and Urban Young, brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Vymazal chose a toast brown Cupioni cotton dress with brown accessories, while Mr. Young wore a silk floral print dress with matching accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Distinctive in its simplicity was the afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Jacob's United Church of Christ before members of the immediate families and close friends at which Miss Connie Taylor, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie E. Taylor of N. Beaver St., became the bride of Ronald Rutter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutter of E. Chestnut St.

Minister for the service performed before the altar banked with palms and vases of pink gladiolus, asters and white chrysanthemums, was the Rev. A. A. Kosower.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Shirley Taylor.

Gary Rutter served his brother as best man.

THE BRIDE'S street-length gown of white tulle was fashioned with a round neckline accented with embroidered lace tapering to a V in the back and push-up puff sleeves. Her jewelry was crystal.

The bouffant skirt was complemented with a pale pink velvet and streamers. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place with an embroidered lace bandeau. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis with cascading pink satin streamers. She carried her grandmother's handkerchief.

The maid of honor was attired in orchid tulle of similar style to that of the bride, with white velvet sash. Completing her outfit was a white feather and velvet bandeau and white gloves. Her arm bouquet was of orchid pompons.

Mrs. Taylor chose a blue flowered on white dress for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Rutter wore black and white. They used white accessories and complemented their attire with corsages of pink carnations.

AN INFORMAL RECEPTION immediately following the ceremony was held at the bride's home where a buffet table was laid in white, centered with a mixed floral arrangement of summer flowers. The three-tiered cake, baked by the bride's mother, was beautifully decorated with white wedding bells and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom in a bower of white-satin.

Misses Ruth Ann Kosower, Irene Gallo, Velma Brinker and Barbara Veits served.

Guests were present from Chester, Shreve, Salem, Waynesfield, Lima, Leetonia and Lisbon.

The bride received part of her education in Salem schools, and the young couple graduated in 1959 from David Anderson High School. She had been employed in the offices of the H. K. Porter Co. and Nationwide Insurance Co. since graduation.

Her husband is in the service and is stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus. The newlywed, will reside at 1497 Lockbourne St., Columbus where they have already established an apartment.

FOR GOING AWAY THE bride wore an aqua and green floral print on white dress.

The bride-elect was the honoree at a surprise miscellaneous shower Thursday night given by Misses Irene Gallo and Velma Brinker at the Gallo home on Columbiana Rd. The gifts were displayed beneath a white umbrella from which streamers of pink satin ribbon held lilies of the valley. Refreshments were served and nut cups in the form of wedding bells were favors. Games were enjoyed, with prizes going to the honoree, Miss Donna Hollinger and Mrs. Taylor.

Isaac Ruhl of Lisbon Rd was surprised Thursday night when his family gathered at his home in honor of his 87th birthday anniversary.

THE AFFAIR WAS PLANNED by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Devan and daughter, Barbara of N. Jefferson St. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Devan of E. Chestnut St. Eighteen were present.

Ruhl is an avid hunter and the large birthday cake depicted his hobby.

Mrs. Cora M. Barnes who has resided for some time with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Capehart of N. Market St. has established residence at the Neville Apartments at 120 1/2 E. Washington St.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle McPherson returned to their home on Exchange St. Friday from a week's vacation. They visited the Rev. The price of tickets to next year's state high school basketball finals is going up 50 cents for the general public.

The Ohio High School Board of Control has decided to increase the price to $2. However, student tickets will remain at $1.

Main reasons given for the increase were the rise in operating expense for the tournament, played at St. John Arena here; an increase in the cost of winter and spring sports competition, and the addition of several new publications distributed by the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Among 10 new member schools added to the OHSAA at its monthly meeting Saturday are New Miami of Hamilton, Tuslaw of near Massillon, Admiral King of Lorain and Madison of West Middletown.

Action Opens Tuesday at Kelley Field

The annual Salem Invitational Softball Tournament will get underway at Kelley Field Tuesday night when six squads of the 32-team field are slated to go to the post in a triple header starting at 7 p.m.

Defending champion Akron Reds Bar is pitted against the Salem A.C. in the tournament opener, Youngstown Cliff Fisher Realtor and Farrell 7-Up will tangle in the second game at 8, and Scott's Candy will go battle with Cuyahoga Falls McGowan-Reid Funeral Home in the 9 p.m. nightcap.

Akron Red's Bar is expected to field pretty much the same team which won the tournament here last year with one big exception — speedballer Rip Fugate probably won't be with them.

FUGATE HAS reportedly been lined up to hurl for the Cleveland Auto Springs and Wheel club which is scheduled to make its first against Alliance Murphy Service.

This Cleveland club must be considered as one of the favorites in the tourney. Besides Fugate, Cleveland also has Bobby Payne, who hurled a no-hitter here last year.

Kirby Laughlin, a popular former Salem athlete, is also with Cleveland Auto Springs and Wheel.

Salem A.C., the team which must face Akron Red's Bar in the opener tomorrow night, is managed by Charlie Delvichio and features hurlers Jim Stonemetz and Bill Ehrhart and sluggers Jim Foreman, Bill Pauline and Gerry Menicelli, all of whom performed during the regular season in the Salem City League.

FARRELL IS EXPECTED to pitch Gus Guerino against Cliff Fisher Realtor's tomorrow. This is the same Farrell club which has joined the Salem Merchants in a pair of Penn-Ohio League games this season.

The Scott's Candy team which will face Cuyahoga Falls McGowan-Reid Funeral Home in the final tomorrow night is composed of players from the Marks Landing and Lincoln Machine squads of the local Class A loop.

Six of the 32 teams in the tourney are composed of players who performed in Salem leagues this summer. Besides, Salem A.C. and Scott's Candy, they are Acanic's Tavern of Kensington; Theron's IGA of Columbiana; Herron Transfer, the Class AA champion; and Shaffer Ford, the District champion.

Three games are carded in the tourney each night with an additional three contests on Sunday afternoons and Labor Day. Barring rainouts, the finals will be played on Sept. 11.

TEAMS IN the tournament other than those already mentioned include the following:
Youngstown Panno's, New Brighton Merchants, Massillon Dolphs Tavern, Bloomingdale Nightriders, East Liverpool American Vitified Products, Youngstown Skyway Tavern, Findlay Ohio Oil, Steubenville Ledo's, Campbell Hillcrest Tavern.

Youngstown Local 1331, Barberton Pioneer Cleaners, Midland Local 1212, Unionport, Massillon Rockets, Akron Marko Body Shop, Akron Esquire Club, Canton DuMont Cleaners, Youngstown Avon Restaurant and Youngstown Ma-fa.

The 32nd team in the tournament will be from either Akron or New Brighton, Tournament Director Dave Briskin reports.

There will be a charge of 25 cents at the gate for tournament games. A pass for the entire tourney may be purchased for $2.50. There will be 61 games, including the finals.

Hamilton Is Only Unbeaten Club Left

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton's Champion Paper team is the only undefeated squad left in the Ohio Amateur Softball Association championships after scoring two victories Sunday night.

Wad Fannin pitched a five-hit, 3-2, victory for Hamilton over Richmond, then shut out defending champion Woods Plumbing of Columbus, 1-0, on two hits.

Clarke Fills Slot End Post

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Leon Clarke, the 230-pound end received from the Los Angeles Rams last week, is working out as a slot end with the Cleveland Browns.

"He looks like the type we need on the crosses, slants and diagonals," said Coach Paul Brown. "We think Clarke will be most effective running from the slot position."

Clark is not able to operate at full speed because a pulled leg muscle he suffered several weeks ago while training with the Rams has not healed completely.

John Morrow, who received a heavy blow on the knee in the game with Pittsburgh Thursday night, will be rested several days. Dave Lloyd, a pro sophomore from Georgia, will work out at center until Morrow returns to action.

Two players were dropped from the squad Sunday and there were indications that others would be released before the Browns close their training camp here Thursday.

The release of Bobby Brooks and DeJustice Coleman brought the squad to within two players of the National Football League limit of 43 permitted the day after Labor Day.

Brooks, a flanker candidate from San Jose State, didn't catch the ball well enough and Coleman, a rookie prospect from Illinois, did not have the speed necessary for a pro defensive back.

The Browns depart on a 10-day trip to the West Coast Thursday morning. They play the Rams in an exhibition game Saturday night at Los Angeles and meet the San Francisco 49ers a week from Saturday in Portland, Ore.

Spahn Hurls Braves To Win Over Phillies

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is becoming more evident each day that if Milwaukee is to overtake Pittsburgh, it will be done behind the strong arms of those inimitable roommates, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette—with an assist from Bob Buhl.

Spahn Sunday hurled his 15th victory, a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia. That cut Pittsburgh's first place lead to 6½ games. The Pirates were beaten by Cincinnati 8-4.

The brilliant southpaw is now one up on roomie Burdette, whose 14th triumph last Thursday was a no-hitter against the same Phils.

Spahn's fourth of July, Spahn has won nine of 11 and completed seven of 10 starts. He has relieved only twice. During the same span, Burdette has won six of nine decisions and has completed six of nine starts. He, too, has relieved only twice. Between them, Spahn and Burdette have won 29 of the Braves' 65 games and have pitched 23 of their 36 complete games.

Milwaukee kept a game and a half in front of St. Louis' Cardinals who swept past Los Angeles into third place by defeating the Dodgers 2-0. The Chicago Cubs and San Francisco Giants divided a pair, the Cubs winning the first game 5-3 and the Giants taking the second by the same score.

Bob Nieman and Ken Boyer drove in St. Louis' runs and Ernie Broglio and Lindy McDaniel collaborated to pitch a six-hit shut-out against the Dodgers. Broglio, who worked the first seven innings, won his 15th against six defeats. The loss was charged to Sany Koufax who has started 17 times against the Cards in his career and has yet to finish a game.

Andre Rodgers' three-run homer in the sixth of the final helped rookie Georges Maranda to his first major league victory as the Giants gained a split with the Cubs.

Catcher Moe Thacker and second baseman Don Zimmer led the Cubs to their first game victory. Thacker threw out three Giant would-be base stealers and singled in the tie-breaking run in the sixth. Zimmer stole home and drove in an insurance run. Glen Hobbie won his 12th for the Cubs.

Redlegs Wallop Pirates, 8-4

Jay Hook's Curves Baffle Leaders

CHICAGO (AP) — Pittsburgh's league-leading Pirates have bitter memories of the broad, sweeping curves young Jay Hook offered them Sunday.

Except for the Pirates' first base strong boy, Dick Stuart, who homered twice, the 23-year-old right-hander had the Pirates stifled until the eighth inning.

He had to let Jim Brosnan finish out the ninth with his usual deft competence, but the 8-4 victory was virtually all Hook's.

Hook (10-13) scattered nine hits and was not in serious trouble in early innings.

The Pirates, dropped to a 6½-game league lead by the decision, collected a run in the first inning that was partly a gift.

Dick Groat drew a walk and after advancing as Bob Skinner hit into an easy out, scored as Stuart's pop single dropped behind the Cincinnati infield.

Stuart banged his first homer in the fifth and another in the eighth. Hook also was tagged for a followup eighth inning homer by Roberto Clemente.

The Reds took the lead in the third when Billy Martin walked and Vada Pinson hit his 13th homer.

Rookie Cliff Cook added a home run in the fourth. And Wally Post rammed his second pinch homer of the year in the eighth, with one on.

But a three-run fifth inning was the biggest factor and chased Bob Friend to an early shower.

Pinson got the attack started on Groat's error and scored on hits by Gus Bell and Frank Robinson. Facing the new pitcher, Fred Green, Ed Bailey singled to center with bell scoring. Green passed Cook intentionally, but Chico Cardenas put down a good sacrifice bunt to score Robinson.

The Reds left after the game for a nine-day road trip, starting today with a single game against the Cubs. Jim O'Toole and Bob Anderson were the probable opposing pitchers.

QUAKER COACHING STAFF — There are several new faces on the Salem football coaching scene this season. Last year's backfield coach Blaine Morton has taken over the head job from Earle Bruce who moved to Sandusky. Sebastian La Spina, former Miami University griddier, and Bob Martin, who played football with Morton at Fairmont State, W. Va., College, are newcomers to the staff. Bob Miller, who played at Kent State University several years ago, also has been added. He has been teaching here at Fourth Street School. Bob Slevin, former Boardman High griddier, will take over the head coaching job at junior high. Mike Guappone, who helped coach the varsity linemen last season, is back this year. Members of the Salem coaching staff, pictured above, are: front row (l. to r.) Slevin, Morton and Martin. Second row: Guappone, Miller and La Spina. Jerry Martin, who will assist Slevin at junior high, will join the staff when school starts.

Ashville Women's Open Won by Betsy Rawls

ASHVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., played three holes in a driving rain but still shot a two-under par 69 Sunday to win the Ashville Women's Open Golf Tournament with a 54-hole total of 211.

It was the second straight Ashville Women's Open title for Miss Rawls. She had 13 one-putt greens and needed only 23 putts for the 18 holes.

Louise Suggs of Atlanta had a 727 on the final 18 holes for a 213, good for second place. The first place finish was worth $1,247 to Miss Rawls.

Four Bout Wrestling Card Slated Friday at Hi-Neighbor

A four-bout wrestling card, sponsored by the Salem Junior Baseball Program, will be held Friday night at the Hi-Neighbor Dance Hall.

Salem's Frank "Toar" Julian will take on 300-pound Ed Paleta of Steubenville in the opener at 8:30. Julian weighs 255 pounds.

Tony Gardenia of New York City is matched against Bobby Ford of Poland, O., in the second bout. This will be a one fall affair with a 45-minute time limit.

Julian will team up with Ford against Gardenia and Paleta in an Australian tag match, slated for two of three falls with a 90-minute time limit.

In the final bout of the evening, Elaine Ellis of Chicago will wrestle Mary Alice Hillis two out of three falls with a 45-minute limit.

Miss Hillis, a 19-year-old 152-pounder, was an all-around athlete and drum majorette at Sacred Heart High School in Columbus. She has been wrestling for two years.

Tickets for Friday's program are on sale at Fisher's News Agency.

Trapshoot Titles To Be Decided Today

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Some odds and ends championships were up for decision today as the 61st Grand American Trapshoot got underway.

In the 200-target race at 16 yards, the brother-brother, parent-child, husband-wife and veterans titles were to be decided.

Men over 70 and women over 50 were in the veterans' contest. A special feature for state champions was scheduled at 100 targets.

Before the clay target world series closes Saturday, a million and-a-half shots will be fired along the mile-long firing line, and 41 champions of various categories decided.

On Sunday's final tune-up event, 200 targets at 16 yards, Herb Bush of Canton, Ill., was the victor. The 50-year-old diesel mechanic was tied at 200-straight by Seldon E. Bailey of Barborton, Ohio, a 28-year-old rubber company office worker, but the Illinois crack shot broke 50 to Bailey's 49 in a shoot-off.

Bush hasn't missed in 500 straight targets during three days of preliminary firing.

Tigers Win 2 By 6-4 Scores

Piersall Injured; May Stay on Bench

DETROIT (AP)—A month ago the Cleveland Indians were in the thick of the American League pennant fight only 2½ games off the pace, but today they are 11 games behind the league - leading New York Yankees and in danger of dropping into sixth place.

A pair of 6-4 losses to the Detroit Tigers here Sunday put the Indians in fifth place, one game behind the onrushing Washington Senators and only a game ahead of the sixth-place Tigers. It was the Indians' sixth straight double-header defeat.

The Tribe got a home run, a triple and 12 singles and drew six walks in the second game, but was able to score only four runs. Fifteen runners were left on the bases.

Twice the Indians had a runner at third base with none out and failed to score. In the last four innings they put nine runners on base without getting one in.

A two-run single by Eddie Yost in the eighth inning scored the winning runs in the nightcap after a 4-4 tie since the fifth frame.

Yost's hit off Johnny Kippstein, third Cleveland pitcher, scoring Frank Bolling and Neil Chrissy, who opened with singles and advanced on a bunt.

All the other Detroit runs were driven in by Charlie Maxwell with a single, a double and a two-run homer.

Newcombe Is Loser
Don Newcombe, who relieved starter Gary Bell in the fifth, was the loser and now has a 1-2 record with the Indians. Winner was Pete Burnside (7-7), the fourth Detroit pitcher.

Jim Piersall, who got his 15th home run in the opener, tripled in the nightcap and strained a groin muscle in the effort. He was forced to leave the game and may have to remain on the bench when the Indians open in Boston Tuesday night.

John Romano hit a homer for the Tribe in the second game and Ken Aspromonte, who got six hits in nine trips to the plate in the twin bill, homered in the opener.

Perry Drops Sixth
Detroit came from behind for its victory in the first game, scoring four runs off loser Jim Perry in the fifth inning. Four singles a force play and Bolling's triple produced the runs. The loss was Perry's sixth against 15 victories.

Jim Bunning (8-9) was the winner, but Paul Foytack saved the decision for him by blanking the Indians on two hits over the last four innings.

Aspromonte and Piersall drove in the Cleveland runs — Aspromonte with a two-run homer and Piersall with his homer and a run-producing single.

Vic Power, whose batting average dropped below .300 when he went 0 for 4 in the opener, was on the bench with a sore thumb in the nightcap. Tito Francona replaced Power at first base and Marty Keough took Francona's place in left field.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My 9-year-old son presents a dilly of a problem. I don't want to goof.

Ray has two close pals. They are 10 and 12 years old. Every now and then when he comes home from being with them, he tells me a dirty joke that just about takes the paint off the wall.

Both boys are from lovely families and I know their parents well. If I repeated these jokes to the parents the boys would really catch it.

I'm afraid to snitch, however, because the boys might take it out on Ray for telling me and then he'd have trouble.

Ray asked me not to tell the boys' parents. He says he can handle the situation by walking away when they start to tell dirty stories. His intentions may be good but I'm afraid his 9-year-old curiosity may triumph. I need your advice.—URGENT.

ly put Ray in a bad spot. Trust him to take a walk when the dirty stories begin and if he doesn't walk away fast enough on occasion no permanent damage will result.

Most kids hear just about everything by the time they're 12. The important thing is to be able to distinguish between that which is desirable and that which is not. Your son seems to know the difference.

Dear Ann: I hope you won't think this is too silly to print. I need an answer and I can't take a chance on getting it in the mail. I'm a career girl living at home with my mother and she opens everything.

The other evening I went out with a nice gentleman. He surprised me by unexpectedly kissing me goodnight. I heard something crunch in his pocket and was horrified to find that he had shattered his eyeglasses.

Do you think it would be a nice gesture if I offered to replace the broken glasses? I feel just terrible about this.—DELILAH.

Dear Delilah: Let Samson pay for his own glasses. You were not responsible and offering to pay would be entirely too solicitous.

Dear Ann: I'll be going off to college soon and I hope you can help me. I'll be 18 in September.

My parents have always been pretty strict with me. During my senior year of high school they allowed me to date one night a week. Now that I'm going to be a thousand miles from home my parents want me to promise I won't date any oftener than that.

I think this is unfair. After all, I don't know who I'll meet or even if I will be asked out THAT often. They say one date a week is plenty for a girl my age. What do you say?—WENDY.

Dear Wendy: One of the wonderful things about going away to college is the opportunity to be independent and to make decisions on your own.

Your parents should not extract such a promise from you. If they feel you are adult enough to go away to school they should trust your judgment regarding dating.

Dear Ann Landers: People say if you have a husband who doesn't drink or gamble or chase women, you're lucky.

My husband doesn't do any of these things. He also doesn't read a darned thing, he doesn't care for movies, music or plays. He has no hobbies, isn't interested in sports and doesn't care for people.

I think he's a dull jerk and I don't feel lucky at all. Can it be that something is wrong with me? I would appreciate a candid answer.—FILLED WITH DOUBT.

Dear Doubtful: A man doesn't become a dull jerk overnight. What did you two have in common when you married him? If you'll give ME a candid answer, I can work from there.

Dear Ann: I was delighted that you had the courage to air in your column a delicate problem that many office workers run from because they don't know how to handle it.

I am speaking of the sloppy female who ignores the basic rules of hygiene, such as washing with soap and water, using a toothbrush, comb and changing her clothes regularly.

Your suggestion that "the most gentle and mature woman in the office tell her" is unrealistic. This type never can bring herself to do the job.

In our own office, the most mature and gentle woman refused flatly. She said, "I'd rather die than face her with the facts." So-oo, it was left to me, a temporary worker, with no seniority, no record for tact and nothing to lose.

I explained to the girl as gently as I could that I was speaking for the entire office. She was visibly shaken, on the brink of tears, and could only reply, "NOBODY ever told me."

I had a difficult time looking at her for a few days but when I finally did, I noticed she had improved her appearance 100 per cent. Although she never came out and said, it her eyes told me that she was enormously grateful.—THE OFFICE PATSY.

A MESSAGE to the Wage Earners of Salem

Last December The Salem China Co. made the public statement that a city income tax would work a hardship upon their employees and make it difficult for the company to obtain skilled craftsmen to accept jobs in Salem instead of in other pottery centers. Namely, East Liverpool, where the people overwhelmingly voted down a similar income tax proposal last year.

In January of this year the employees of The Salem China Co., in a poll, voted over 90% against an income tax for Salem. They have not changed their minds, particularly since the amended tax now being considered by council is worse than the original.

We wish at this time to compliment the Joint Tax Study group for its thorough study and for its sensible report and recommendations. We want also to commend them for opposing Council's determination to take upon their arbitrary self, the rights and responsibilities which have heretofore been accepted as the exclusive right of the people to vote on such large political expenditures.

We do not subscribe to the idea that the collective judgement of seven councilmen is as good as the collective judgement of all the voters in Salem, particularly when the Joint Tax Committee which represented all of Salem's political and social life including Capital and Labor disagreed with Council.

This arbitrary assumption of political power against the wishes of a majority of the people is very dangerous to our political system. It appears to be too similar to authoritarian forms of government where it is the belief that politicians know more about the people's pocket book than the people themselves.

It was even stated by the leadership of council at a public meeting that the people are not capable of understanding the need for the income tax and that only the members of council were capable of making such decisions.

During the debates with the Joint Tax Group council's leadership not only attacked the intentions of some of its members but opposed good suggestions because they did not like the authors of the suggestions. This attitude of council proves that the present leadership of council can not judge the merits of proposals because they permit personalities to become involved. They should not try to use their political power to do something which the people have already voted in a regular election they do not want them to do.

Property owners should not be fooled into believing that their property taxes will be reduced if the income tax is adopted, because the truth of the matter is they are not only going to have to pay the present high tax rate for a long time but soon the re-appraisal will be completed and their property tax will be increased. Then in addition they will be compelled against their will to pay an income tax.

Wage earners should not get the notion that the rich or highly paid will pay most of the tax. The truth of the matter is that the wage earner is going to pay the great bulk of this tax.

With the job situation in the Salem area as it is with over 1000 on unemployment insurance in this area and manufacturing laying off more people than new industry can absorb, it is ridiculous for Council to embark on a big spending program or to force this new tax upon the people when we are trying to encourage new industry to come to Salem.

We therefore urge the people of Salem to contact your councilman before Tuesday night so that council will understand the feelings of the people generally.
